

HUNT INSTITUTE

---

FOR GLOBAL COMPETITIVENESS

Speaker Series 2016

The Hunt Institute for Global Competitiveness invites you to the speaker series presentation:

“Industrial Labor Issues in Mexico”

Presented by Mónica Ortiz-Uribe

5:30 p.m. Friday, September 30, 2016

(Registration starts at 5 p.m.)

at El Paso Museum of Art, Energy Auditorium, Second Floor

Reception to follow presentation at the Isha Roberts Sculpture Gallery
& optional visit to the museum exhibitions

Mónica Ortiz Uribe is a Senior Field Correspondent for KJZZ's (NPR affiliate station in Phoenix) Fronteras Desk. She's based mostly out of her hometown in El Paso and at KRWG in Las Cruces. Her work focuses on regional news of the southwest and the U.S./Mexico border including immigration, binational business and the environment. She covered the recent drug war in Ciudad Juárez as a freelancer for National Public Radio and other national news outlets. Her first job was as a reporter for the Waco Tribune-Herald in central Texas. Mónica is a graduate of the University of Texas at El Paso.

RSVP at <http://huntinstitute.utep.edu/news-events>

